Darkness Descending:

The Fall of America in the Wake of the Fraudulent 2020 “Election”

Shaun Willcock

Only if a political matter is a threat to the Christian Church, or fulfils Bible prophecy, is there any need for Christians to spend time analysing and exposing it. Believers need to look beyond this world’s issues, concentrating on spiritual matters, the building up of the true Church of God, the sanctification of the saints, the evangelising of the lost, and preparing for heaven; for they are strangers and pilgrims in this world, and are to live as such.

“You and I have a rendezvous with destiny. We will preserve for our children this, the last best hope of man on earth, or we will sentence them to take the last step into 1,000 years of darkness.” – Ronald Reagan

The Election was Fraudulent and Stolen, and America Has Fallen

America has fallen.

Yes, it fell to Communism under Barack Obama. But then Trump swept to victory. This time it’s different. This time the entire election was stolen. And there may never be another free election again.

The Trump presidency was in all likelihood America’s swan song, politically. Trump succeeded spectacularly well, against all odds humanly speaking, for four tumultuous years. He successfully reversed many of the disastrous and blatantly evil policies of the Obama administration. He turned the clock back, as it were, albeit briefly. His presidency, for all its faults, was a breath of fresh air in many ways. Perhaps the last gulp of fresh air would better describe it.

Although conservatives, semi-conservatives and patriots will doubtless try again at the next election to take back their country from the Communists and their sympathisers who have stolen it via the 2020 election, it is doubtful that they will ever again truly succeed, or at least not for many, many long years, because the integrity of the entire electoral process has been destroyed, in all likelihood permanently, and the Communists now taking power will see to it that there is never again a free election in America. The results of any future election will simply not be trusted, and with perfectly good reason. The entire system will have to first be overhauled, and that is a very long way off in the future in all likelihood, if it happens at all.

The 2020 presidential election in the United States was stolen. It was stolen by the combined efforts of the Democratic (really now the Communist) Party of Joe Biden, the controlled mainstream media, the Big Tech social networks, and the most massive electoral fraud in world history.

And most especially, it was stolen by the Deep State, i.e. the Illuminati, under the control ultimately of the Jesuits of Rome.

Donald Trump won the election by a huge landslide. Of this there can be no doubt whatsoever. But by diabolically cunning, according to a plan hatched years before, the election results were massively altered in Beijing Biden’s favour. The media then prematurely announced him to be the winner and thus the “president-elect”, long before all the results were in. And then, again thanks to the media, the world was bombarded with the same lie, non-stop, 24/7 – “President-Elect Biden”, “President-Elect Biden”. The media lied, lied, and lied again. It censored Trump’s utterances; ignored his speeches; ignored the vast evidence of electoral fraud and corruption; constantly harped on and on about Trump making “unproven” claims; and eventually even shut down his social media accounts, in an absolutely blatant display of censorship, of the annihilation of free speech. The internationalists grabbing power over America wanted only one message to be heard. Their lying message. Their lies.

With the fraudulent, stolen Biden “victory”, America has fallen. It has joined the rest of the western world in embracing Socialism/Communism. With its victory over America, the Communist world revolution has virtually succeeded. For which western country is left? There are none.

America’s Reichstag Fire

This article is not going to go into any in-depth description of the invasion of the Capitol by supposed “pro-Trump supporters” in early January, as this has been covered by countless reports, and the bare facts are well known. What is far more to the point, however, is: have we been told the truth about it?

No, we haven’t. Not by a long shot.

The bare facts of what happened, which hammered the final nail into the coffin of Trump’s hope of retaining the presidency, are these: hundreds of thousands of pro-Trump supporters, patriotic anti-Communist Americans thoroughly sick and tired of how their country was being taken over by maniacal Communist revolutionaries, descended peacefully on Washington, D.C. The huge crowd was respectful and peaceful, although understandably angry at the stolen election.

But there were deliberate Communist plants, sent in by the Communists, the Democratic Party, Black Lives Matter, Antifa,¹ etc., to cause serious disturbances and to bring the entire pro-Trump gathering into disrepute the world over. They are paid to infiltrate gatherings and to incite riots.² It’s an old, tried-and-tested Communist tactic, and in this case it worked wonders for Beijing Biden and his puppet-masters.

And so it came to pass that people stormed the US Capitol, and violence broke out. A Capitol policeman was killed and so was a woman who was shot dead by a Capitol police officer. Other than broken windows, however, not too much damage was done to the Capitol, and no legislators were hurt in any way.

Various voices were raised, declaring that the violence at the Capitol had all the hallmarks of a Communist Antifa provocation. Evidence started to become available immediately.³ But it was all ignored by the mainstream media. They were determined to blame Trump and his supporters, and were not going to let the facts get in the way of their story.

Right on cue, the frothing anti-Trump politicians and their media sycophants blamed him for the violence (even though he called for a peaceful march and immediately condemned the violence when it occurred), and demanded that he be removed from office or impeached.⁴ The Communist-sympathising liberal media in all its forms leaped to condemn the rioters as “pro-Trump supporters” and “domestic terrorists”. This was the very same media, be it noted, who called the Black Lives Matter thugs, arsonists and murderers who had terrorised entire cities month after month throughout 2020, “peaceful protesters”, exercising their “democratic right” to protest against Trump!

This is how they operate, you see. When it’s their people, they’re “peaceful protesters”. When it’s the opposition, they’re “terrorists”. Anyone who knows anything about how Communists operate the world over could see that this was what was happening. The problem is, very few Americans today understand Communism. I have lived through two Communist revolutions in Africa, and I have studied and analysed them (and others) in depth. I know Communism. I know how Communists operate. I’ve experienced it firsthand. What happened in the Capitol was instigated by Communist plants in the crowd.

Please read the following very carefully, to the end. It’s very relevant!

In Germany in 1933, when the Reichstag, the German parliamentary building, went up in flames, Hitler used the incident to consolidate the Nazis’ power.

For years Hitler’s National Socialist Party (the Nazis) had been denouncing the Weimar Republic. They seized more and more power, and also infiltrated the police. In 1933 Hitler was appointed as Chancellor by President Paul von Hindenburg.

The Nazi Minister of the Interior, Herman Göring, ordered a raid on the Communist headquarters, and the Nazis claimed that they had found evidence of seditious material.

On the night of 27 February 1933 people near the Reichstag heard the sound of breaking glass. Flames erupted inside the building, causing extensive damage. When Hitler arrived on the scene he said, "This is a God-given signal. If this fire, as I believe, is the work of the Communists, then we must crush out this murderous pest with an iron fist." A few hours later von Hindenburg invoked a law to abolish freedom of speech, assembly, privacy and the press, etc. That very night thousands of Communists were arrested, imprisoned and tortured.

The Prussian Press Service called the fire "the most monstrous act of terrorism carried out by Bolshevism in Germany."

But what was the truth about the Reichstag Fire? I loathe Communism with every fibre of my being, but in this case the Communists were not responsible. Always ask: who stood to gain the most from the fire? There is only one answer: the Nazis themselves. There is very good evidence that the Nazis orchestrated the fire themselves, so as to destroy their political opponents and consolidate their own power. And it worked! With all the empty Communist seats in parliament, the Nazis gained a majority.

The head of the Berlin fire department at the time, Walter Gempp, who personally directed the operations that night to extinguish the fire, later presented evidence which suggested Nazi involvement in the fire. For this he was dismissed. Some years later he was arrested, and killed in prison. Various historians, after examining the evidence, have stated the Nazis themselves caused the fire. Göring himself admitted he was responsible! Historian William Shirer, in The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich, wrote: "There is enough evidence to establish beyond a reasonable doubt that it was the Nazis who planned the arson and carried it out for their own political ends."

Fast forward to America, 2021. I'm going to re-write the above, keeping as close as possible to the same layout, but I'm going to substitute the storming of the Capitol by alleged pro-Trump supporters for the setting of the Reichstag fire by alleged Communists:

In the United States, when the Capitol was stormed, Joe Biden and the Democratic Party used the incident to consolidate their power.

For years the Democrats and their media allies had been denouncing the Republican Party, and President Donald Trump. They seized more and more power via the mainstream manipulated media and social networks, and the support they gave to the Black Lives Matter and Antifa thugs and terrorists; and they not only infiltrated the police but also called for the defunding of the police nationwide. Various Democrats, utterly opposed to Trump and his administration, held powerful political positions.

The Democrats launched one attack after another on President Trump throughout his presidency, constantly claiming – falsely – that they had found evidence of all kinds of evil acts committed by Trump, including treasonous ones.

On 6 January 2021 crowds of angry protesters stormed the Capitol. The Democrats and their allies in the controlled media called for Trump to resign and to be impeached, for supposedly "inciting" the rioters. They also called for those they labelled "domestic terrorists" to be punished (even though the vast majority of the crowd was peaceful, and even though the Democrats themselves had for months supported the extremely violent BLM domestic terrorists as they rampaged, virtually unchecked, across American cities, causing damage, destruction and death on a scale far, far greater than anything committed by those comparative few on 6 January). The calls which had been heard for many months, and the promises by Biden and his cronies, to severely restrict or even abolish true freedom of speech, assembly, privacy and the media, now massively increased. Loud calls were heard for the arrest and punishment of the "domestic terrorists". President Trump was permanently banned from using Twitter.

The controlled world media, in all its various forms, called what happened, essentially, the most monstrous act of terrorism carried out by Republican Trump supporters in the United States.

But what was the truth about the storming of the Capitol all along? Always ask: who stood to gain the most from the fire? There is only one answer: the Democrats themselves. There is very good evidence that the Democrats orchestrated the chaos, which was carried out by deliberately-placed agents of Antifa and other Communist subversive groups, so as to destroy their political opponents, weaken Trump still further, deliver the final death blow to any chances he had of overturning the fraudulent election results, and consolidate their own power. And it worked! Officials within the Trump Administration resigned like dominoes; calls increased for Trump's head; the world was disgusted and the media saw to it that the world blamed Trump and his supporters; and the Democrats vastly increased their own influence and support.

The mainstream media ignored the evidence and kept the public in the dark. There is enough evidence to establish beyond a reasonable doubt that it was the Democrats, via their domestic terrorist buddies such as Antifa, who planned the entire debacle and carried it out for their own political ends.

America 2020: South Africa 1994 Repeated

I am a South African. 26 years ago in 1994, once-free South Africa, the most anti-Communist country on earth, fell to the forces of Communism, through a fraudulent election – the most fraudulent in world history up until that time. At the time, and ever since then, I have said repeatedly that the time was coming when the United States of America would also fall to Communist revolutionaries. Although the American government supported the rise of Communism in South Africa, it was thought that what happened to South Africa could never occur on American soil.

Now it has.

This is not the place to go into all the astounding parallels between the Communist revolution in South Africa which brought the African National Congress to power in 1994, and the Communist revolution in America which has now brought the new Communist Party USA (the falsely-named Democratic Party) to power in 2020. Yes, there are great differences as well between the two countries' revolutions. This is to be expected, as they are different places and the revolution had to adopt itself to the peculiar circumstances, history, culture, etc., of each. But even so the similarities are immense.

This is what I wrote soon after the 1994 South African election:⁵

“It has finally happened.

“Following the April 26-29 election in South Africa, the Marxist-controlled African National Congress of Nelson Mandela has come to power. It is the culmination of decades of revolution, conspiracy, murder and mayhem: decades which have seen this once-great land reduced from a First World giant to what promises to be a Third World disaster, decades which have seen literally tens of thousands of lives lost in one of the most brutal, most savage guerrilla revolutions the world has ever known.

“The Communist forces have been victorious. They have won. In the face of unprecedented international pressure, betrayed by its ‘friends’ in Washington and London and by its own weak, infiltrated government, besieged by Moscow-financed terrorists who bombed civilians, murdered farmers and township residents, burned to death so-called ‘collaborators’, and undermined by evil, scheming, Communistic ‘clergymen’ who preached fiery revolutionary sermons and stirred up the masses to hate and kill and to think that they were doing God’s will all the while, South Africa has caved in. And on its ashes ‘the New South Africa’, a ‘People’s Democracy’, a Marxist state, will now arise...

“The election is over, and the ANC has won. But if anyone pays any heed to the cries which we are hearing from all quarters now, that the election was ‘free and fair’, he is naive in the extreme. That this election has been ‘free and fair’ will surely rank as one of the greatest lies of the twentieth century, a lie perpetrated by newsmen, ‘churchmen’, politicians, observer missions; a lie that they planned to tell, long before the election was even held. No matter what happened, there was no way this election was ever going to be declared anything but ‘free and fair’.”

True, the United States did not experience a brutal, decades-long Communist terrorist revolution like South Africa did, with tens of thousands of people murdered by the terrorists. In fact, the terrorism aspect of the US revolution was a comparatively recent thing, most notably something which defined 2020 itself with the BLM riots across the land.

So yes, there are some differences; but in its broad strokes the revolution in America followed a similar, albeit swifter, pattern than in South Africa. To illustrate this, I will now essentially repeat the above, but substitute “the United States” for “South Africa”:

It has finally happened.

Following the 2020 election in the United States, the Communist-controlled (and in particular, Chinese Communist-controlled) Democratic Party of Joe Biden and Kamala Harris has come to power. It is the culmination of years of conspiracy, and months of revolution, murder and mayhem, which have seen this once-great land reduced from being the leading country of the western world to what promises to be a fragmenting, increasingly Third World-type disaster.

The Communist forces have been victorious. They have won. Betrayed by its own weak, infiltrated government, besieged not only by Beijing-financed but American-financed terrorists who destroyed property, threatened lives and murdered civilians, and undermined by evil, scheming, Communistic “clergymen” who preached fiery revolutionary sermons and stirred up the masses to hate and kill and to think that they were doing God’s will all the while, America has caved in. And on its ashes a new America, a “reset” America, a “People’s Democracy”, a Communist state, will now arise.

The election is over, and the Communists have won. But if anyone pays any heed to the cries which we are hearing from all quarters now, that the election was “free and fair”, he is naive in the extreme. That this election has been “free and fair” will surely rank as one of the greatest lies of the twenty-first century, a lie perpetrated by the media, “churchmen”, politicians; a lie that they planned to tell, long before the election was even held. No matter what happened, there was no way this election was ever going to be declared anything but “free and fair”.

Do you see, reader?

How Are American Christians To Live?

Towards the end of my book documenting the South African Communist revolution I wrote: “as the iniquity of all nations, all countries, increases, sooner or later they fall under divine judgement.” I went into the sins of the people of South Africa. But then I wrote the following, and as painful as it may be for many American Christians to face up to this reality, they desperately need to do so, for it is way past time they rejected any notion that their country continues to bask under the blessing of God, when the evidence has been there for a very, very long time now that this is simply not the case (again, remember this was originally written in 1994):⁶

“But what has been said of South Africa can also be said of the other lands of the earth which have enjoyed such blessings from God; sometimes even more than South Africa ever did. What of thou, O Great Britain? Or of thou, the United States of America?... The US, for example, is a moral cesspool and a land of bloodshed. Sexual perversion of all types is rampant. Homosexual parades, with tens of thousands of participants, are held in many cities, with this wickedness being openly and defiantly flaunted, and with the blessing of those in top government positions. Hollywood continues to spew out its filth, and its heroes and heroines are those who can sink the lowest in human depravity. Tens of millions of human beings have been killed in abortion clinics around the land. Violent crime in the major cities is almost epidemic. And in addition, the US is committing increasingly open fornication with the Great Whore [yes, even under the Trump Administration]. Can divine judgement be too far away?... Indeed, has not divine wrath already begun to be poured out on the US and Britain and other Western lands? Surely it has, and it will increase more and more as the days go by [think back over the past 26 years or so]. No country can tolerate within its borders the kind of wickedness that now characterises the Western lands, and escape the wrath of the Almighty God; much less can those do so, which in the past enjoyed so many divine favours.”

America is not a Christian country. Not only is there in truth no such thing as a Christian country, never has been, and never will be, but to claim that America is a Christian country because it is full of churchgoers, professing Christians, people who talk about God, etc., reveals an abysmal lack of biblical discernment. Like all other western countries today, huge numbers of Americans, despite calling themselves Christians and attending churches, are devoted to their idols of Hollywood movies, worldly music, dancing and revelry, alcohol, etc. It behooves the Lord’s true people to be brutally honest and speak the truth, about their country, their people, and the reasons why these things have befallen them. Do not be misled any more into thinking that it is the duty of Christians to “save America”. That was never the true Church’s duty, and never will be. True Christians are strangers and pilgrims on the earth (1 Pet. 2:11). Their first and foremost concern should always be the state of the true Church: its growth, its spread, its pastors, its flocks, the necessity of separation from the world, and – as far as its involvement with the world is concerned – the evangelisation of the lost. Instead, far too many Christians, in America and elsewhere, are more concerned about the state of their country. But their country is part of this world system. This earth is not our true home. No country is our true home. We are looking for a better country; an heavenly country (Heb. 11:9,10,13-16). We are only passing through this world. We must be good citizens, and pray for the rulers of this earth (Rom. 13:1-7); but as believers the issues that should most occupy our thoughts, prayers, time, energy and even money, are those things which concern the kingdom of God.

As Christians, our interest in worldly things, political matters, should essentially be confined to how they affect our lives, as the Lord’s people. With Beijing Biden as president, the darkness descending on America will be thicker than ever. What will this mean, not only for Christians in America but indeed the whole world? In a word: tyranny. The walls are closing in. The camp of the saints is almost completely surrounded (Rev. 20:9).

“When Joe Biden becomes president on January 20, the Democrats will be in control of the legislative and executive branches of [the US] government, and they will be able to pack the Supreme Court, thus controlling all branches of the federal government. Nothing will be able to stop their agenda...

“This Democrat control will allow President Biden to implement his ‘New World Order’ that he called for in the Senate on January 13, 1993. And this will help achieve a World Federal Government wished for by President Clinton in a June 22, 1993 letter.... As a Rhodes scholar, Bill Clinton will have thus fulfilled the dream of Cecil Rhodes when he founded the secret Society of the Elect ‘to take the government of the whole world!’ in Rhodes’ own words.”⁷

Yes, and who did Rhodes model his secret society on, by his own admission? The Jesuit Order. Truly, all roads lead to Rome.

I weep for you, my American brethren. I truly do. Believers in America who understood the signs of the times wept for believers in my country back in 1994, and I weep for you now. The darkness is descending. But what concerns me most of all is that even now the focus is so frequently on politics, voting, the president, etc., etc. Yes, pray for those who will now rule, or misrule, this great country. But live as strangers and pilgrims in this world! For that is what you are (1 Pet. 2:11).

The American experiment in republicanism – “the last best hope of man” as Ronald Reagan put it – the most spectacular success story of any country in world history, has, for all that, been shown to be just that – a hope of man. I believe it was the historian Alexis de Tocqueville who said something along the lines of, “America is great because America is good, and when America ceases to be good it will cease to be great.” Well, America has ceased to be good and it is no longer great.

Multitudes of professing American Christians (and merely professing to be a Christian is not the same as actually being a truly regenerated, converted soul) have been looking to a mere man (Donald Trump) to save them. But no matter what good he did for America – and he did a great deal, for which believers have much cause to be grateful to God – he is only a man, and a sinful one at that. He is not the Son of Man. He is not the One who is both God and Man, the only true Saviour and Lord.

To the true remnant Church in America I would say, from the heart and with earnestness: take your eyes off a mere man; stop setting your hopes on some kind of conservative revival within the Republican Party; quit being primarily concerned for earthly and political salvation for your country; study the Scriptures, and see what the true mission of the Church is. Paul did not write a single word about “cleaning up the Empire from within”, or about “Making Judea Great Again”; nor did any of the apostles. Their focus was elsewhere. Their thoughts were higher. Their hearts were set on things above (Col. 3:1,2).

Written from the heart by one who, although never having had the privilege of being a citizen of your country, loves all that is wonderful about America; is grateful to the Lord that for over 200 years it has pleased the Lord to permit such a country to exist on this earth; and prays for the Lord’s true saints in that land as the darkness descends upon it as never before in its history.
