Dr Anthony Fauci, a Tool of the Jesuits

Shaun Willcock

Note: this article is not about the medical pros and cons of receiving the COVID-19 vaccines. Enough has been said about that already, and my own position has been clearly stated elsewhere. The real issue is the global people control measures which are being implemented, via both the manipulated “plandemic” and the “vaccine passports” which are becoming increasingly mandatory in many countries and which, unless the Lord intervenes, will eventually be mandatory the world over. And Dr Anthony Fauci is at the forefront of this Jesuit agenda for world domination.

Fauci a Jesuit Tool

In my book, The Year They Shut Down the World,¹ I wrote:

“From the outset of the coronavirus ‘plandemic’ one medical doctor’s name kept surfacing, both in the US and worldwide: Dr Anthony Fauci, an American physician and immunologist, director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases in the US. As with Bill Gates, Fauci was suddenly everywhere. He was constantly being interviewed, constantly giving his opinions, and being deferred to by the medical establishment as the leading ‘expert’ on the coronavirus and how to respond to it. He was a vocal advocate for strict ‘social distancing’, for the wearing of face masks – even saying that wearing them should be made compulsory if people would not comply voluntarily – and for a universal vaccine.²

“But who was this man, really? Once again we find the hands of the Jesuits on a prominent man’s shoulders, directing him, and through him the US and international response to the virus.

“Anthony (Tony) Fauci was described as ‘a poster boy for the Roman Catholic Jesuit system.’³ He was raised as a Roman Catholic, attended Our Lady of Guadeloupe Grammar School in Brooklyn, New York, and then went on to Regis High School, a private Jesuit college-prep school in Manhattan, New York, renowned as an academic haven for gifted Roman Catholic boys. Thus his high school education was controlled by the Jesuits.... He said the values he learned from the Jesuits continued to guide him after his education...⁴

“His Jesuit indoctrination did not end with high school. Afterwards he attended the College of the Holy Cross, a private liberal arts Jesuit university in Worcester, Massachusetts.”

Fauci became the chief medical advisor to U.S. presidents Trump and Biden. He is Jesuit-educated, and is serving the interests of the Jesuits in this Coronavirus insanity. He is a liar and a deceiver, a man who is completely untrustworthy, but he has been given vast power to direct the worldwide “COVID-1984” response (Orwell’s horror becoming reality).

He gives great credit to his Jesuit education, but has said that he is not active in organised religion and now has a humanist belief system. In 2015 he said, “I’m less enamored of organized religion than I am with the principles of humanity and goodness to mankind and doing the best that you can.”⁵ To many this would indicate that he is not a faithful Roman Catholic. However, when it comes to the Jesuits one just never knows for certain, for nothing is ever as it seems on the surface. Throughout their history the Jesuits have had men, both inside and outside the priesthood, pretending not to be Roman Catholics, or no longer to be, but who remained faithful servants of the Jesuit Order (see my book, The *Jesuits: The Secret Army of the Papacy*⁶). Adam Weishaupt, the man the Jesuits put forward as the “founder” of the Illuminati, is a prime example. The Jesuits’ praise for Fauci indicates a far closer relationship than he would admit to, given the Jesuits’ need for secrecy and proceeding with the utmost caution. The Jesuit Order of Francis I is directing the worldwide COVID “crisis” and the response to it.

How Did He Know? Fauci Predicted the Coronavirus in 2017 Already

Way back on 16 January 2017, just as Donald Trump was beginning his presidency, Fauci told a forum on pandemic preparedness at the Jesuits’ Georgetown University (there they are again – the Jesuits) that Trump would face the challenge of a “surprise” disease outbreak during his presidency. “We will definitely get surprised in the next few years,” he said. “Risks have never been higher.” And: “The thing we’re extraordinarily confident about is that we’re going to see this in the next few years.” And lo and behold – the Coronavirus erupted onto the world scene in 2020! A very legitimate question is, therefore: how did Fauci know this? How could he be so “extraordinarily confident”? There is only one possible answer: he and others planned it and funded it.

The claim that the Coronavirus was manufactured in the Wuhan Institute of Virology in China and then released or leaked out was dismissed as a conspiracy theory by many. One prominent denier was Peter Daszak, head of EcoHealth Alliance, who got the British scientific journal The Lancet to publish a paper in February 2020 which dismissed the lab leak theory as a “conspiracy theory”.

However, according to a grant proposal as far back as 2018, American and Chinese scientists at the now-infamous Wuhan Institute planned to create a novel Coronavirus not found in nature. The grant proposal was submitted by none other than EcoHealth Alliance, which was partly funded by Dr Fauci’s agency! Fauci declared that “the NIH and NIAID [Fauci’s organisation] categorically has not funded gain-of-function research to be conducted in the Wuhan Institute.” However, NIH grant records verified that funds were sent to EcoHealth Alliance which were then used for research at the Wuhan Institute. Emails from Fauci indicate that he funded training for the most dangerous laboratory at Wuhan, the biosafety level four facility.⁷ A paper by a chief researcher at the Institute, entitled “Origin and evolution of pathogenic coronaviruses”, provided details on the research of bat viruses and stated that the funding came from Fauci’s NIAID. And MIT scientists who examined the paper came to the conclusion that gain-of-function research was being carried out with that funding.

It turns out that as far back as 2011, Fauci and Francis Collins, director of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) in the U.S., wrote an op-ed for the Washington Post in which they advocated for gain-of-function research entitled “A flu virus risk worth taking.” This was countered by an MIT professor, Kevin M. Esvelt, in an op-ed in the same paper entitled “Manipulating viruses risking pandemics is too dangerous.”

In addition, at a conference in 2017 Peter Daszak stated in a video that work on coronaviruses in China was funded through Fauci’s National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID). He even went so far as to say that with “funding through NIAID to work on coronaviruses in China, we were able to test out this idea of predicting what the next emerging diseases might be.”⁸ And the panel where Daszak was speaking included Fauci himself – who did not correct him.

The NIH has now admitted in a letter that the U.S. funded an experiment at the Wuhan laboratory in which a bat virus was modified in order to create a virus that made mice sicker than the original virus. Richard Ebright, a molecular biologist at Rutgers, stated: “NIH – and specifically, Collins, Fauci, and Tabak [NIH principal deputy director] – lied to Congress, lied to the press, and lied to the public. Knowingly. Willfully. Brazenly.”

Fauci Lied about the Virus from the Beginning

Tony Fauci lied about the Coronavirus from the very beginning. As early as 11 March 2020 he told the House Oversight and Reform Committee on Coronavirus preparedness: “The seasonal flu that we deal with every year has a mortality of 0.1%.” But he claimed that the Coronavirus was “10 times more lethal than the seasonal flu.” “The stated mortality, overall... is about 3%.” That was a lie, and he knew it. But he told it because he wanted to create the crisis. “What Fauci said put the country, with the help of big media, into convulsions. It created the foundation for authoritarian contagion controls.... Fauci intentionally created the [pandemic] by creating fear.”⁹

“A very powerful, influential person [Fauci] told the world in early 2020 that the new China virus that leads to COVID-19 infection was especially lethal. That claim quickly pushed a fast, enormous response to protect public health. Was the truth being told? It was not. There was an exaggeration of the new virus’s lethality for the entire population. In truth, it was only severe for the oldest age category. Helped by corrupt data from the CDC, overstatement of COVID lethality continues today. To maintain public fear.”¹⁰

The Coronavirus was nowhere near as deadly as Fauci et al had claimed it would be. By October 2020 the World Health Organisation (WHO) estimated that approximately 10% of the world’s population had been infected with the virus. At that time the world population was approximately 7.8 billion people, so 10% would amount to 780 million people infected. But the total worldwide death toll attributed to the virus was 1,061,539. This equates to a fatality rate of 0.14%. This does not even qualify as a deadly pandemic! In fact, this tiny percentage is “consistent with seasonal flu ... and inconsistent with the dire picture given by Fauci.”¹¹ And this figure in itself is inaccurate, given that many deaths attributed to COVID-19 were not caused by COVID-19 at all. As is now well known, in hospitals everywhere people who died from all kinds of other things were certified as having died from COVID. Even suicides and deaths in car accidents were at times marked down as COVID deaths! There were financial incentives for hospitals to certify deaths as being from COVID.

Did Fauci know the truth? Of course he did. Ronald B. Brown, who has a doctoral degree in public health, wrote a detailed analysis entitled “Public Health Lessons Learned from Biases in Coronavirus Mortality Overestimation”, published in August 2020. And in September 2020, in an article entitled “Mistake or Manipulation”, Len Cabrera stated: “A review of the early events mentioned in Dr. Brown’s paper and the lack of any corrections to the record suggest that the misstatement [by Fauci] before Congress was not a mistake.” If not a mistake, it was deliberate! The article concluded: “Sadly, many politicians were duped and went along with the recommendations for lockdowns and masks that followed from Dr. Fauci’s 10-times-deadlier testimony.”

Why did Fauci lie? He lied because he and his masters had a specific goal in mind. They wanted the extreme global reaction –and they got it. They wanted to use this “plandemic” to bring about massive and worldwide population control measures, and they knew that the only way to get the entire world to play along was to instil great fear in people everywhere. When people are afraid they accept massive government interference and control in their lives. To create such global fear Fauci had to lie. He lied about the nature of the virus. He lied about how deadly it was. And to maintain the lie that it was a deadly plague, he also had to lie about how many were actually dying from it.

It all worked. The fear took on a life of its own, and Fauci and his Jesuit masters were able to advance their plans for population control and subservience across the earth.

Yes: Fauci lied. This Jesuit-educated doctor serving Jesuit/Vatican globalist interests has persistently lied through his teeth. “He also admitted recently that he’s told dozens of half-truths and full-scale whoppers over that last year. Why? Because he was telling us what we wanted to hear – or needed to hear. This does not include the biggest phony story he ever told, of course. What was that? You know, the one about his personal role in developing the pandemic in conjunction with the Chinese! This guy is shameless.”¹²

Jesuits are permitted to lie, if it will advance their cause (see my pamphlet, *Jesuit “Moral Theology” and the Destruction of Western Morality*¹³). Tony Fauci has been utterly Jesuitical from the beginning.

Fauci Flips Again, Claiming “Gain of Function” is a “Meaningless” Term

In simple terms, “gain of function” research attempts to find ways to make pathogens worse, so that they can be studied in preparation for a fight against those infections. As stated above, Fauci repeatedly denied, even under oath, that the United States, and he himself, funded “gain of function” research at the Wuhan laboratory in China, from where the Coronavirus spread throughout the world. But as the evidence that this is indeed what happened continued to stack up he changed his tune, and in November 2021 he said the term, “gain of function”, was “meaningless.”

“The Intercept reporting is completely misleading, because ‘gain-of-function’... is a completely meaningless term unless you put it into context,” he said in an interview, “And what has happened is that years ago we paused all function on manipulating viruses, which is an absolutely essential part of virology, in order to get certain guard rules and guidelines about what constitutes research that in fact might be dangerous and need special oversight.” He claimed that the guidelines for the research have changed, and that the research that was done met the requirements “at the time.”

However, Richard Ebright, professor of chemical biology at Rutgers University, stated categorically: “He is lying. Brazenly, and, in this interview, desperately. The term ‘gain-of-function research’ is defined in the federal policy in effect in 2014-2017, and the term ‘enhanced potential pandemic pathogens’ is defined in the federal policy in effect in 2017-present.”

Fauci Also Lied about Face Mask Effectiveness

Fauci has flip-flopped on the effectiveness of face masks. In March 2020 he stated in an interview that there was “no reason to be walking around with a mask”. But he later changed his tune and insisted that masks were absolutely essential for everyone, claiming his views had evolved with “the science”. Of course, many studies have now proved that mask mandates do not help slow down the spread of COVID-19, and in fact that the wearing of them has negative health effects. Even the Wall Street Journal said that Fauci and the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) had undermined the public’s trust by “vacillating between contradictory positions”, and commented as follows in August: “Far from providing leadership, agencies such as the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and figures such as Anthony Fauci have a record of projecting their own unfounded speculation as authoritative scientific judgments on matters in which they lack clear evidence. Recall how the CDC spent spring 2020 attempting to dissuade the public from buying masks, how Dr. Fauci described the risk of Covid to the U.S. as ‘minuscule’ in late February 2020, and how ‘two weeks to flatten the curve’ morphed into two months, then a year.”

Fauci, however, is not one to let the facts get in the way of his tall tale, so he has continued to sing the praises of mask effectiveness, contrary to real science.

Apparently, however, he himself does not feel that he should be subjected to the same rules he has done so much to impose on everyone else. In November 2021, at a book party, he was seen taking his mask off, and putting it on, at different times. When Washington Post writer Sally Quinn said to him, “You seem pretty ambivalent about your mask”, Fauci replied: “I just decided that if anyone came up that I didn’t know, I would put my mask on.” Quinn’s comment on this was, “He knew everyone was vaccinated. If it was someone we knew, he would trust them, and if it was somebody else, he didn’t.”

One rule for Fauci; another for everyone else.

And He Lied about the Vaccine Effectiveness

Fauci claimed that the COVID vaccines were “virtually 100% efficacious”. He claimed that “real world effectiveness is even more impressive than the results of the clinical trial.”¹⁴ But he was lying once again. As is now well known, at the beginning of the vaccine roll-outs the pharmaceutical companies and the media claimed they were 100% effective; but they gradually lowered their estimations to as low as 20% after only six months! And by November 2021 Fauci was pushing the idea that booster shots were now absolutely necessary – thereby revealing that he knew the vaccines were ineffective. He said, “Make it really simple. If you had a primary vaccination, get a booster.” And: “The effect of boost is very, very favourable to preventing people from getting infected.” He said he was hopeful that booster shots would help “keep people out of the hospital” and “keep them from dying”.¹⁵

Hold on a minute: weren't the original vaccines supposed to provide immunity? Isn't this what Fauci and his supporters had said for many months? Isn't this why he urged everyone to get vaccinated in the first place? Weren't the vaccines supposed to keep people out of hospitals and keep them from dying? Yet now he was pushing booster shots.

He said: “We have got to get almost everybody who's gotten the primary vaccination regimen, we've got to get all of them boosted. Even though, for the most part, the vaccines absent the boost protect quite well – particularly among younger people – against hospitalisation.” Oh, so now vaccines only “protect quite well”, do they? Not long ago Fauci was claiming they were the miracle solution to the COVID virus.

The great, trusted, never-do-wrong Dr Fauci was very wrong about “the science” – again.

Fauci Tells Americans: Do as You're Told

In November 2020, Fauci said that the United States' response to the Coronavirus should not be compared with other countries, because it was not an island with five million people that could be shut down. “I was talking with my UK colleagues who are saying the UK is similar to where we are now, because each of our countries have that independent spirit. I can understand that, but now is the time to do what you're told.”¹⁶

It would be difficult to find a more authoritarian, dictatorial statement. But Fauci, almost in the same breath, had the audacity to say it was unfortunate that during the Coronavirus period the public perceived scientists as “authoritarian”!

This man is on a power trip. He revels in the vast authority he has been given. Forget individual liberty. Forget freedom of choice, freedom of movement, freedom of religion even. Your freedoms are on their way out. In many places they are gone already. Like the slave you now are, you are required to do as you're told, by Fauci and his equally power-drunk cronies.

Fauci Tells Canadians: Give Up Your Right to Make Your Own Decisions

When he gave a virtual lecture to Canadians at McGill University in October 2021, Fauci said something which should have sent shock waves throughout the world – but didn't, because people were by then so brainwashed about COVID. He said: “I think what people have to appreciate is that indeed you do have personal liberties for yourself, and you should be in control of them. But you are a member of society and as a member of society, reaping all the benefits of being a member of society, you have a responsibility to society, and I think each of us, particularly in the context of a pandemic that's killing millions of people, you have got to look at it and say there comes a time when you do have to give up what you consider your individual right of making your own decision.”¹⁷

So out of one side of his mouth this serpentine doctor pays lip service to personal liberties and that people should be in control of them, but out of the other side of his mouth he then says that they must give up those personal liberties for the sake of society. This is Jesuitical talk.

It is of course true that as we are all members of particular societies, we have certain responsibilities towards them to keep others safe. We may have the liberty to decide to drive a car, but we do not have the liberty to decide to drive it irresponsibly, as this endangers other people. We may have the liberty to own a firearm for personal protection, but we do not have the liberty to discharge it irresponsibly in a built-up public area where we put other people in danger. All liberties come with responsibilities and restrictions. But the problem in this case is that COVID is simply not a deadly pandemic. It is a virus which has an over 99% recovery rate. Thus it is simply nonsense to claim, as Fauci has done, that people must give up their individual liberties so as not to endanger society. Society is not in danger!

This is yet another Fauci lie aimed at increasing Jesuit/One-Worlder control over the people of the earth.

Fauci: “I’m Devoted to Preserving People’s Health”

In light of all the above, the following statement by Fauci, given during an interview with MSNBC, has to be rejected outright as just another lie: “I’m not in it for a popularity contest. I’ve devoted my entire professional career of 50 years to try and essentially safeguard and preserve the health of the American people.”

In the same interview he said, “The praise or the arrows and slings are really irrelevant. I do what science drives you to do.” In the light of all that has been revealed above, the truth is quite different: Anthony Fauci does what his puppet-masters instruct him to do – not what science drives him to do. He also claimed that criticism of him amounts to attacks on science itself – an astoundingly arrogant statement, to say the very least.

Fauci: The Movie (Yes, Can You Believe It?)

The leftists, Communists, one-worlders and Jesuits are so enamoured with Tony Fauci that they rejoiced when a new documentary, simply entitled Fauci, was made about their favourite medical Jesuit.

However, most others didn’t like it much at all. People who saw it made comments such as these: it “felt like a propaganda piece or a fan tribute”, and “it felt like a marketing fluff piece”.¹⁸

IMDb had to grudgingly admit that the rating for Fauci was a mere 1.6 out of 10. That just would not do. So they made a few “adjustments”, and – hey presto! – overnight the IMDb site listed the rating as 5.8 out of 10. They artificially inflated the movie’s rating!

In other words, they lied. But then again, since the movie is about a serial liar, this should not be at all surprising.

Fauci’s Experiments on Dogs

This issue is relevant more for what it tells us about western society than for what it may say about Fauci.

It turns out that Fauci, through his NIAID, funded what was described as “gruesome, medically worthless experimentation on adult dogs and puppies”, specifically beagles. It was called the White Coat Waste Project. Documents were obtained which claimed to show that at the University of Georgia the dogs were allowed to develop infections, and were then put down for blood collection. According to the White Coat Waste Project, the experiments were related to treatment for a tropical disease called lymphatic filariasis, to develop a potential vaccine which would protect against this disease, which affects 120 million people. Under U.S. federal rules a vaccine has to be tested on two animal species before it is cleared for human clinical trials. According to the university, it followed the humane standards of various acts and policies relating to animal welfare and their use in experiments, and added, “Nearly every advancement in medicine, medical devices and surgical procedures has depended on research involving animal subjects.”

As long as animals are not treated cruelly, there can be no valid moral objection to experiments on animals, and the university was correct – conducting experiments on animals before humans is an established part of medical science and advancement, and has been for a very long time. However, only when the full facts are brought to light (if they ever are) will we be able to know whether or not the experiments in this particular case were conducted in a cruel manner or not.

However, apparently there was an attempt by Washington Post journalists to protect Fauci’s reputation so that his efforts to deal with the COVID “crisis” were not undermined. According to Glenn Greenwald, an independent investigative reporter, the Washington Post had “decided to amass a team of reporters to attack the group [that had spotlighted Fauci’s funding of the experiments]...in order to falsely smear it as a right-wing extremist group motivated not by a genuine concern for the welfare of animals or wasteful government spending, but rather due to a partisan desire, based on MAGA ideology, to attack Fauci.”¹⁹ Put simply, as far as leftists are concerned Fauci should be untouchable.

And sadly, this business tells us so much about western society today. When Fauci played such a significant role in shutting the entire world down at the start of the COVID spread, most people meekly went along with it with nary a whimper of protest. When he insisted that everyone everywhere must don face masks, the world meekly complied. When he insisted that the entire world should be vaccinated against a virus which is no threat to the lives of over 99% of the world’s population, most people, panic-stricken, once again meekly complied. But only now – because his organisation has been accused of funding experiments on puppies – there is public outrage and demands for his resignation from some quarters!

This man plays god with the health, the livelihoods, and the free movement of hundreds of millions of people; and the vast majority, both on the left and right, stay silent. But when he allegedly funds research on puppies which may or may not have been cruel, there is a huge outcry.

This is the world we live in now, where the lives of animals have more value than the lives of human beings (as long as they’re cute – we don’t see the same outrage over snakes or crocodiles). So warped are the priorities of so many that they will rise up in outrage over dog experimentation, but say nothing about what Fauci’s lies have done to virtually the entire human population of the world. It’s the same warped sense of “morality” (!) which makes people campaign to Save the Dolphins while simultaneously attacking those who campaign to Save the Unborn from abortion.

Fauci and Jesuit “Evil Spirits”

Here’s what Fauci the Jesuit servant said to a Canadian Broadcasting host, which was then reported in Newsweek: “It is just mind-boggling. I mean, if I were some diabolical, evil spirit and I wanted to cast upon the world the worst time to get an outbreak, it’s when you have this kind of combination of divisiveness with the complete accessibility and spread of complete falsehood. There is nothing worse than that in the middle of a pandemic.”²⁰

Fauci was denying that he is a “diabolical evil spirit” – although, given the fact of his vast responsibility for planning the COVID “plandemic” and then having such a hand in overseeing the shocking global response to it, it’s not surprising that multitudes do view him as motivated by evil spirits, which indeed he is. Certainly the Jesuits have been motivated by diabolical evil spirits since their very inception, and continue under that demonic influence to this day; and whether or not he is an actual Jesuit secret agent or a useful puppet in their hands, Fauci was trained by them from childhood and is doing their dirty work with enthusiasm and great effectiveness. They must be delighted with him. Outright Jesuit or Jesuit puppet, he has done wonders for them.

Let us leave it at that for now, shall we?
